

CURRICULUM VITAE

Alfred J. Andrea

aandrea@uvm.edu

EDUCATION:

Ph.D. Cornell University, Medieval History

A.B. magna cum laude Boston College, History, Classics, and Philosophy

CURRENT ACADEMIC OFFICE

Professor Emeritus of History, University of Vermont

AREAS OF WORLD HISTORY RESEARCH and TEACHING

Global History to 1700

World Religions

The Silk Road

The Mediterranean World

Papal-Byzantine Relations, 330-1453

The Crusades

Long-Distance Cultural Exchange across Afro-Eurasia, 100-1500

WORLD HISTORY AWARDS

Pioneer of World History Award by the World History Association, July 19, 2014

Phi Delta Kappa Honoree for Distinguished Teaching in World History, 2009

Saint Michael's College Centennial Medal for Distinguished Scholarship, 2004

Distinguished Scholar-in-Residence for Silk Road Scholarship, The University of Louisville, 2002

CURRENT and RECENT WORLD HISTORY OFFICES

NERWHA Secretary (2015-)

Council, The International Research Association for History and Social Sciences

Education (IRAHSSE) (2015-)

President, World History Association (2010-2012)

CURRENT and RECENT EDITORSHIPS

Series co-editor, Historical Myths (Hackett Publishing, 2014-)

Editorial Board, Outremer: Studies in the Crusades and Latin East (2010-)

Series Editor, Connections: Key Themes in World History (Pearson Prentice Hall, 2005-2014)

RECENT and FORTHCOMING WORLD HISTORY PUBLICATIONS

The Human Record: Sources of Global History, 2 vols., 8th ed (Boston: Cengage, 2015). Vol. I:
To 1500 (425 pp.) and the Prologue to both vols., "Primary Sources and How to Read Them" (P-1--P-17).

Using The Human Record: Suggestions from the Editors, a manual to accompany The Human Record, 8th ed. (2015)

Co-edited with Andrew Holt, Seven Myths of the Crusades (Cambridge, MA: Hackett Publishing, 2015).

"The Silk Road in World History: A Review Essay," Asian Review of World Histories 2 (2014):
105-127.