

Heather Streets-Salter
Curriculum Vitae

Address:

Department of History
249 Meserve Hall
Northeastern University
360 Huntington Ave.
Boston, MA 02115
streetssh@gmail.com

Employment:

2014—	History Department Chair, Northeastern University
2012—	Associate Professor and Director of World History Programs, Northeastern University
2005—2011	Associate Professor, Washington State University
2009—2011	Director, Undergraduate Program in World Civilizations at Washington State University
2002—2011	Director, Graduate Program in World History at Washington State University
1998—2005	Assistant Professor, Washington State University

Education:

1998	Ph.D., Modern Britain/British Empire, Duke University
1993	M.A., Modern European History, Duke University
1991	B.A., American History, Duke University

Books:

Beyond Empire: Southeast Asia and the World During the Great War. Forthcoming 2016.
Co-authored with Trevor Getz. Modern Imperialism and Colonialism: A Global Perspective. Pearson-Longman, August 2010; Revised edition with Oxford University Press, 2015.
Co-authored with Jerry Bentley and Herb Ziegler. Traditions and Encounters: Brief Edition, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd edition. McGraw-Hill, 2006, 2009, 2012.
Martial Races: The Military, Race, and Masculinity in British Imperial Culture, 1857-1914. Manchester University Press, 2004. (reissued in paperback in Fall, 2010)

Articles:

“Anti-Colonial Movements,” in Tony Ballantyne and Antoinette Burton, editors, World Histories from Below: Disruption and Dissent from 1750 to the Present (Bloomsbury, 2015). 10,000 words.
“The Noulens Affair in East and Southeast Asia: International Communism in the Interwar Period,” Journal of American East Asian Relations 21 (2014): 394-414. 11,000 words.
“The Singapore Mutiny of 1915: The Local was Global,” Journal of World History 24:3 (August, 2013).
“Writing for Student Audiences: Pitfalls and Possibilities,” Special Issue of Historical Reflections/Reflections Historiques, edited by Antoinette Burton (June, 2012).
“Becoming a World Historian: Training, Topics, and Goals,” in Douglas Northrup, editor, A Companion to World History (Wiley-Blackwell, 2012).
“World History at Washington State University,” in Patrick Manning, editor, Global Practices in World History (Marcus Weiner Publications, 2007).
“Military Influence in Late Victorian and Edwardian Popular Media: The Case of Frederick Roberts,” Journal of Victorian Culture 8:2 (2003).
“The Imperial Turn in The Classroom: Academic Discourses Meet Student Response,” in Antoinette Burton, editor, After the Imperial Turn (Duke University Press, 2003).
“Identity in the Highland Regiments in the Nineteenth Century: Soldier, Region, Nation,” in Steve Murdoch and Andrew Mackillop, editors, The Scottish Military Experience, c. 1600-1800. (Brill Academic Press, 2002).
“The Rebellion of 1857: Origins, Consequences, and Themes,” Teaching South Asia, Vol. I, number 1 (Winter 2001), <http://www.mssu.edu/projectsouthasia/tsa/VIN1/Streets.htm>.