

James Chiyoki Ikeda

195 Prospect Street, Norwood, MA, 02062

jcikeda@gmail.com

(609) 721-6137

Research Interests

The afterlives of the US Third World Left, The Black Radical Tradition, Black Nationalism the Global Left, transnational solidarities in African American intellectual history.

Education

MA in History

Northeastern University

May 2022

MA in History

Tufts University

May 2017

- Master's Thesis

- Thesis Title: "Black is a Country": The Impact of the Cuban Revolution on American Black Radical Solidarities
- Committee: Jeanne Penvenne, Frances Peace Sullivan, Reed Ueda (chair)

M.Ed. in Learning and Instruction

Northeastern University

September 2014

BS in Secondary Social Studies Education

Boston University

May 2012

Teaching and Curriculum Design

History Teacher (full-time)

Quincy High School

October 2012 to Present

- Subjects Taught: African American History, AP US History, US History 2, Modern World History, Civics for English Learners
- Designed & piloted district's first African American History class (Fall 2021)
- Founding faculty adviser to the People of Color Student Union and the Poetry Club

Adjunct Professor of History & Philosophy (Part-Time) September 2017 to Present

Bunker Hill Community College

- Subjects Taught: Asian American History, US History 1 & 2, Modern World History, Intro to Philosophy, Street Performance (honors seminar; co-taught)
- Designed & piloted college's first Asian American History course (Fall 2021)
- Designed a fully online version of Introduction to Philosophy

Adjunct Professor of History (Part-Time)

Quincy College

September 2018 to 2020

Presentations and Lectures

at Bunker Hill Community College

- "United States Interventions in Southeast Asia" (September 2018)
- "The Partition of British India: A History and its Legacies" (February 2020)
w/ MCtheProfessor.GOV
- "Problematizing the National History Survey" (March 2018)
- "Civil War Memory: Contestations of the Past & Politics Today" (April 2018)
- "Civilization & Savagery: The Racial Ideologies of American Settler Colonialism" (June 2018)
- "A Brief History of Japanese Americans" (February 2019)
- "Political Semiotics: Engaging with a Discourse of Symbols" (October 2019)